NEGROES' MEETING

Colored Voters' Session At Marion Pledged For Harding

(U. S. Naval Radio)

Spokane, Wash., September 11.—Governor Cox, democrat candidate for the presidency, in a discussion of republican denials of his campaign fund charges said today:

"It is time when it is in order to stop corruption and send somebody to the penitentiary."

PRACTICE GENERAL

Chicago, September 11.—Today's testimony before the United States senatorial committee which is inquiring into the charges as to the republican campaign fund was of deep interest. It was testified that the practice of state committees in increasing the quotas fixed by the national committee of the party was general throughout the country.

Mr. Moore was a witness before the committee and testified that he knew nothing of reports circulated that the Ohio liquor interests supported Cox for governor in 1916 and that the New Jersey liquor interests raised a Cox fund. He characterised the Anti-Saloon League as a republican organisation.

Mr. Edge, in a statement, declared he was convinced that Cox owes it to the people of the nation to withdraw his extravagant statements or stand convicted of playing professional politics.

LEAGUE NOT PRO-WILSON

Walla Walla, Wash., September 11.—Cox in his brief speech here today assured a large crowd that the League of Nations is neither pro-British nor pro-Wilson but is a production of 500 of the best minds in the civilised world.

—Marion, Ohio, September 11.—Five delegations representing negro republicans in both the North and the South today held a meeting at which they pledged their support to Senator Harding, republican candidate for the presidency.

The delegates also expressed their abhorrence of brutal and unlawful violence that has been exercised against members of their race. Demands for the suppression of lynching were made.

Segregation of negro federal employes was another point under discussion at the meeting.

The bank's sphere of action in the matters of banking and finance is practically unlimited. The bank is endowed by the Chinese government with the right of note-issue, and its note reserve is maintained at par.

Famine Relief Association Will Direct Plea To Guilds

Daily meetings are being held by the executive board of the newly organised Seven Provinces Famine Relief Association which was formed by a group of about 40 leading Chinese to give aid to the starving millions in North China. The association intends immediately to raise the sum of $5,000,000 to meet pressing emergencies in districts whose populations are actually near death for want of food. Later a further sum is to be raised to carry on the work.

It has been decided by the association to direct an appeal for funds to all of the various guilds of Shanghai. Arrangements to do this are now going forward. The seven provinces whose inhabitants are to be aided are Chihli, Shantung, Hunan, Honan, Shensi, Chekiang and Fukien. Estimates place the number of persons in dire need at from twenty to thirty million.

The Shanghai association that was formed to render aid was launched following a tiffin at the Carlton Saturday. The committee that was appointed is headed by Mr. Tong Shao-yi as Chairman, Mr. Chu Pao-san, Vice-Chairman and Mr. H. C. Sung, Secretary and Treasurer. The other members are: Messrs. C. Y. Sun of Tientsin, Dr. C. T. Wang, David Yui, Zi Jien-ling, Tsaung Teh-ts, W. E. Souter of the National Bible Society of Scotland and Mr. G. A. Fitch, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

China Awakening Says Painleve On Departure

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Shanghai, Sept. 13.—The following is a translation of a statement, crystallising the impressions of his visit to China, which was specially written for Reuter by M. Paul Painleve, for publication after the departure of his mission for France:

"The three months which we have spent in vast China have been of enthralling interest to my friends and me. For many years I have had great admiration for China's past, and at the same time great confidence in her future. The views, observations, data, which I have continuously amassed during my tour have only confirmed my convictions.

CHIEF REASONS

"Here, briefly, are the chief reasons of this:

Mills Seized By Workers While Bolshevism Impends If Men Override Leaders

(Reuter's Service)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—It is unquestionable that no Government throughout history has been called upon to face a succession of such cyclonic problems as is the present Coalition.

The state of Ireland, aggravated by McSweeney's ebbing life, daily grows progressively unwholesome. The country is in the throes of a number of secondary strikes, some of which like that of the electricians, threaten to become of the first magnitude.

Mesopotamia is inflamed.

The Polish-Russian question is rife with the gravest European complications, although for the moment the omens are brighter.

The Italian Labor troubles are causing the gravest apprehensions.

Great Britain is faced in a fortnight's time, in the threatened miners strike, with the direct challenge of a revolution on Bolshevist lines by an internal blockade of coal supplies.

Most Fateful Event In Centuries

Should the strike take place it will be the most fateful domestic event since the Civil Wars of the 17th Century. For if the miners defeat the Government, a Soviet tyranny would be established, the franchise would become a supreme farce, the vote would be waste paper and majority rule would be abolished. It is now clear, after the failure of Thursday's conference that the next move must come from the miners, and there is a grave danger that the miners' leaders, playing a game of bluff, may ultimately find, like the Kaiser in 1914, that the forces which they have incited will carry them over the brink.

The opinion held in well-informed quarters is that in the event of a strike a general election would be unavoidable. As to its result there can be little doubt, and such an appeal to the country would not be without its compensations, it is declared, as the 1918 elections were abnormal, and the House of Commons today is not a true mirror of the electorate.

STATE WITHIN A STATE

Meanwhile last week's Trade Union Congress has been impressive but confused. On the one hand the extremists have shown more clearly than ever their desire to make it a counter-power to Parliament by organising trade-unionism as a state within the state, but dominating the rest, but on the other hand, the more sober elements in the Congress, which Mr. J. H. Thomas managed admirably from the chair, were stronger than the debates suggested.

As to the present situation, it may be noted that in various parts of the country the miners have already tendered their strike notices, but a substantial percentage of the miners in South Wales have refrained from putting in their notices.

ITALIAN REVOLT THREATENS

London, Sept. 11.—The latest reports show that Italy may be on the verge of a revolution.

Negotiations are proceeding between the metal-workers and the masters, the reports with regard to which are at present conflicting. Meanwhile the movement is spreading. The workers have commandeered the rubber factories at Milan and Turin, including the Pirelli Chemical Works, where 10,000 workers are employed.

Socialist Deputies are supporting the workers but the Socialist Party has not yet made a final decision.

It is stated that the extremists are planning to seize all factories throughout the country.

In such an eventuality it is believed that the Government, which has hitherto been neutral, would be compelled to act, spelling inevitable bloodshed and civil war.

MODERATES IN CONTROL

London, Sept. 12.—A telegram from Milan states that the moderates gained a complete victory over the extremists at a meeting yesterday between the general workers and the Socialists, a large majority voting in favor of settling the metal-workers' strike through Parliamentary action.

SAYS STRIKE INEVITABLE

London, Sept. 11.—Sir Robert Horne, the President of the Board of Trade, in the course of an interview today, said that a strike was inevitable, if the miners refused to abate their demands, which were unjust. The Government were menaced by an industrial strike for political reasons. He emphasised that a quarter of a million miners had refused to support the claim and that the miners agreed that a revision of the wages system might bring them greatly increased earnings, while increasing output

THREE CONVICTED FOR BLACKMAIL OF CHU PAO-SAN

One Given One Year And Two Others Get Six Months By French Court

For attempting to extort $1,000 from Chu Pao-san, retired chairman of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, three were convicted yesterday in the French Mixed Court.

Yin Teh-sung, the author who wrote a letter to Chu on September 7, for the money, was given one year's imprisonment, while Zee Yung-sung and his wife, Zee Lang Sze, were sentenced to six months' penal servitude.

Upon receipt of the letter, Chu placed the matter in the hands of the French police. The address of the first accused was given as the Chang Chun Lodging House. A detective in disguise went to the house and tendered $100 apparently on Chu's behalf. The woman, Zee Lang Sze, came forward to accept the money and she and her room mates were taken into custody.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS

Since Chu's son, Chu Tse-chai, had been summoned as a witness in the notorious sing song girl murder case, Chu had numerous anonymous letters addressed to him, either threatening him or attempting to extort money from him.

The court martial of Yen Jui-sung and Ng Tsung-fang, the two convicts in the sing song girl murder case, began at the Arsenal yesterday. The trial had been delayed on account of the indisposition of the chief justice, Major Dun.

The trial was held in camera. Witnesses including the sing song girl Dee Hung Kwan and Chu Tse-chai, Chu Pao-san's son, the father of the deceased girl, Wang Chang-fah and police witnesses were present.

Prince Tokugawa and other notables were present at the luncheon.

U.S. FOLLOWING OTHER NATIONS IN RATE RULING

Admiral Benson Says Attitude Of America Is Same As Elsewhere

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 9 (by mail).—Provisions of the Merchant Marine Act giving preferential rail rates on export and import commodities carried in American bottoms are in line with practices adopted in Germany, Japan, France, Spain and other countries, Admiral Benson, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, declared in a letter to the Commissioner of the Port of Seattle, Wash., made public here today.

These provisions were inserted by Congress at the request of the Shipping Board, Admiral Benson said, and are designed to offset "the countless discriminations by other nations against American shipping with which the Shipping Board ships and privately owned vessels of the United States have had to contend."

DOMESTIC PREROGATIVE

"Allowing a differential export rate lower than the domestic rate upon the rail shipments within the country is purely a domestic prerogative," the Chairman declared. "Each nation may unquestionably determine for itself that such rates may be made and that they shall be limited in applications to cargo carried in vessels of its nationals. The Board of Trade report to the British Government made in 1918 regarding shipping policies conceded that the control of such practice cannot properly be made the subject of such a treaty."

Admiral Benson's letter was in reply to one from Commissioner Christensen, who declared that since the major part of the Oriental commerce with Puget Sound was carried by foreign vessels, the enforcement of the discriminatory features of the Merchant Marine Act might result in the diverson of that commerce to Canadian ports. Admiral Benson said that threats of foreign carriers to transfer their Pacific coast operations to Vancouver, should perferential rates be granted for American ships, were not worthy of consideration.

SHIPYARDS THEATENED

"Unless American ships be substituted for foreign ships in the carrying of the greater part of your Oriental commerce," the Chairman said, "the shipyards of Puget Sound which have given employment to many thousands of workmen, bringing abundant prosperity to your community, must close their gates, dismiss and cheapening coal to the consumer.

Sir Robert Horne, in conclusion, declared that the Miners' Federation had taken up the attitude that they would not discuss this position until they had first succeeded by menacing the public in extracting a flat rate advance, which they were afraid to justify before an impartial tribunal. Cynicism could go no further.

The miners' repeated asservations of unselfishness and regard for the interest of the community might now be estimated at their true value.

U. S. COAL MINERS STRIKE

Washington, Sept. 11.—In connection with the action of 10,000 anthracite miners on Sept. 2, at Wilkesbarre, Penn., on "taking a vacation" as a protest against the award of the Anthracite Commission, which was appointed as a result of the coal strike, President Wilson has notified the miners of his refusal again to convene the Coal Committee to reconsider the wage award.

President Wilson declared that when a body of men collectively refrained from work by mutual understanding it was a strike, no matter by what name it was called.

MAY REDUCE RATIONS

London, Sept. 11.—An announcement by the Food Controller states that, in the event of a coal strike the weekly sugar ration will immediately be reduced from 12 to six ounces per person, and steps will be taken to restrict the consumption of other essential foodstuffs, as for example bacon, flour and milk. If necessary, the whole country will be rationed.

Mr. McCurdy further emphasises in his statement that, while some hardship is inevitable if the mining strike comes, he is satisfied that with the loyal co-operation of the community and the maintenance of civil order, the arrangements which have been completed will ensure adequate but restricted supplies of food for all parts of the country.

PARLIAMENT CALLED ON

London, Sept. 12.—The Sunday Times, points out that an arrangement exists whereby Parliament may be summoned for the discussion of Polish affairs, and urges that in like manner Parliament should be immediately summoned, in order that the Government, with the whips off, may present its case in regard to the miners' dispute and demonstrate the miners' irreconcilable attitude.

London, Sept. 10 (delayed).—At a meeting of representatives of seven unions of London electrical workers yesterday evening, a resolution was adopted in favor of a sympathetic strike in connection with the lockout of electricians if the employers persist in their refusal to withdraw the lock-out notices.

An extension of the strike in London would involve a great curtailment of public services in the Metropolis, such as lighting, tube railways, etc., but it remains to be seen whether the executives of the unions concerned will adopt the recommendation of a sympathetic strike, as it is believed that some of them are at present not disposed to take drastic action.

(Reuter's Service)

THREAT OF STRIKE CALL

London, Sept. 11.—It appears that the crisis in the electrical trade has undergone a serious development. Mr. Webb, the secretary of the London branch of the Electrical Trades Union, has announced that the Union has notified all electrical undertakings, tramways and railways that the members of the Union will be withdrawn from work on Sept. 18 unless the lock-out notices issued by the Engineering Employers' Federation are suspended.

There are 20,000 workers in electrical undertakings, railways and tramways in London.

ITALIANS SEIZE FACTORIES

London, September 11.—The grave situation which has arisen in Italy, owing to the seizure of 300 iron factories in and around Milan by the metal-workers is now becoming worse. At present half a million workers are involved.

Negotiations between the manufacturers and the workers have been interrupted owing to the former's demand for the immediate evacuation of the factories.

The manufacturers have appealed for assistance to the Government, but the latter hesitates to order the men to leave the factories (from which Bolshevik flags fly) as it wishes to avoid hostility with the Socialists in Parliament, and fears to involve itself in a test of the Army's loyalty.

FORTIFYING WORKS

Meanwhile the workers are establishing iron discipline within the factories, and are busily collecting arms and fortifying the works.

The Socialist Deputies are now expected to demand the immediate assembly of Parliament, and to urge that the Government should requisition the factories, and that they should be worked temporarily under State management.

CONGRESS ENDS SESSION

London, September 11.—The Trade Union Congress at Portsmouth concluded its sittings this morning, when the result of the election of the Parliamentary Committee was announced.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, M.P., general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, headed the poll with 5,000,000 votes, while it is significant that Mr. Smillie, of the Miners' Federation, who was not a member of the old committee, was elected with nearly 4,000,000 votes.

Mr. Thomas, in the course of a striking speech, which brought the Congress to a close, emphasised the need for unity among trade unions in view of the difficulties of the next few weeks.

URGES MODERATION

He declared that they must not allow prejudice or bias to influence their decisions. They were not enemies of their country. They loved their country, but their country could not be made great and happy by bloodshed on the battlefield, but only by comfort in cottage homes.

During the next few weeks every word and action should be thought out. While they were determined to do justice to their own class, they were equally determined to keep in mind the interests of the whole community.

London, Sept. 10.—In connection with the electrical trades dispute, the shop-stewards of the generating stations in London have decided to give a week's notice to cease work unless the Engineering Employers' Federation withdraws its look-out notices against workers in other electrical occupations.

FRENCH MODERATES WIN

Paris, Sept. 11.—At the Federal Congress of French Railwaymen a resolution affirming the autonomy of the trade union movement was adopted by 298 unions against 199. The election of M. Bidegaray as General Secretary indicates the victory of the moderate elements over the elements favorable to Bolshevism.

their employes and as an industry cease to exist.

"Few, if any, repairs to foreign shipping are made in American yards, nor does the use in our trade of foreign ships encourage the building of American ships in American yards, the benefits of which should be apparent to the merchants in other business interests of Puget Sound."

PREFERENTIAL RATES

Discussing the giving of preferential rates in other countries, the Chairman said that France had given a 20 percent discount upon export freight moving in French vessels to New York and other ports, including those of Great Britain, and that Spain also was using that method along with many other preferentials in the way of subsidies and subventions with Spanish ships.

"Japanese ships in the past," he said, "were able to quote the same rates to interior points in Japan as other nations were able to quote to the seaports of that country, a differential quite sufficient to have enabled them in the absence of like preferential rates within the United States for our own ships, to control the rail routing within the United States, and they have done so in many instances to the disadvantages of American ships and at times to certain American ports."

American School Principal Arrives And Assumes Post

Mr. Willard W. Bartlett Has Thorough Preparation In Educational Work

MR. WILLARD W. BARTLETT

Mr. Willard W. Bartlett who has recently resigned his position as Dean of Des Moines College, arrived with his wife Sunday on the Empress of Asia to become principal of the Shanghai American School.

Mr. Bartlett comes with a thorough preparation for educational work as well as with a broad experience. He is a graduate of the Potsdam, New York State Normal class of 1903 and since then has received a B. S. degree from Colgate University and an M. A. degree from Teachers' College, Columbia.

EXPERIENCE IN U. S.

His educational experience includes two years on the faculty of the High School in Johnstown, Pa., two years in rural school improvement work in Vermont, and five years as student secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at the College of the City of New York. Previous to his being chosen as Dean of Des Moines College, he was for some years principal of the Normal department of Judson College, Rangoon, Burma.

During his college years Mr. Bartlett was prominent as an inter-collegiate debater and as an athlete. In the latter his forts were basket balls, track and cross country. He held the New York State inter-collegiate Union record on the pole vault for seven years. He still retains his interest in athletics and has done considerable coaching in the last few years.

BASKET BALL IN BURMA

In Burma Mr. Bartlett and Dr. Grey of the Y.M.C.A., who also arrived on the Empress of Asia, introduced basket ball into the schools at the request of the government and assisted in making it a national game. Mr. Bartlett is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and also of the honorary fraternities of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho.

Mrs. Bartlett received her bachelor's degree from Franklin College, and has done graduate work in Teachers' College Columbia. KAMENEFF LEAVES LONDON

London, Sept. 11.—M. Kameneff, the Bolshevik Envoy, has left for Russia.

London, September 12.—M. Kameneff, who has left for Moscow, is conveying a number of demands by Mr. Lloyd George for the clearing up of outstanding issues, for example, the Bolsheviks' proferred subsidy to the Daily Herald is regarded as conflicting with the Soviet undertaking not to engage in propaganda in Great Britain. It is noteworthy, in connection with this offer, that many influential quarters regard acceptance of the subsidy as illegal.

It is reported that before leaving, M. Kameneff got some straight talking from Mr. Lloyd George, who emphasised that the Russians had violated their pledges, had been busy with definite Bolshevik propaganda and that it was he (M. Kameneff) who had eliminated the Bolsheviks' civil militia peace condition with regard to Poland when presenting their terms to Great Britain.

It is stated that M. Kameneff will not be allowed to return. On the other hand M. Krassin, who has faithfully observed his pledges, is remaining.

FOOD CRISIS IN RUSSIA

London, September 11.—A wireless appeal from the Soviet Government, which has been sent to every part of Russia, indicates the existence of a great food crisis.

It declares that the problem of daily bread is the most important question of the day owing to bad harvests and orders all workers' organisations to mobilise their forces for the purpose of obtaining food-stuffs from the rural districts.

London, Sept. 9 (delayed).—According to a Moscow message Tchitcherin has announced that the Bolsheviki have at the eleventh hour decided not to send peace delegates to Riga to meet the Poles.

The hitch appears to be due to the fact that the Letts have not guaranteed immunity from all interference for the auxiliary personnel of the Russian delegation, but only for the delegates and experts.

A later message, already published, shows that all obstacles have since been removed.

BOLSHEVIK DEFEAT

Warsaw, Sept. 9 (delayed).—An official communique states that Budienny's force, after a new and unsuccessful attack, is now retreating amidst heavy fighting east of the River Bug. The Poles have occupied Krubieszow. In the region of the Narev a Bolshevik detachment has been defeated, and 500 prisoners taken. In the north the Poles occupy the line Augustow-Suwalki, and have received orders to avoid conflicts with the Lithuanians.

Ask The Squirrel

whether Oak is hard—he knows!

To appreciate to the full the value of Oak for flooring and panelling, it is necessary to know the conditions under which the tree itself comes to maturity.

It is the rule with trees that the faster they grow the poorer the quality of the timber they yield, and vice versa. The Oak is one of the slowest trees to grow, and is consequently the producer of the hardest and most valuable timber. The Oak is not found so much in the sheltered valleys, but on the bleak uplands, where from infancy it is exposed to the vicissitudes of wind and weather.

DEFENSE POLICY FOR AUSTRALIA IS MADE PUBLIC

Premier Declares Country Must Do Its Share In Aid Of Empire's Navy

RESUME BOYS' TRAINING

Large Sum To Be Allotted To Further Expansion Of Air Force

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, Sept. 10.—Speaking in the House of Representatives, Mr. Hughes, the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth, made a statement laying down the Government's defense policy. He declared that the most vital part of Australian policy was the preservation of Australia for the European races. The responsibility of the Australian people had been increased by membership of the League of Nations.

After referring to the fact that there were populations numbering 15,000,000 to the north and north-west of Australia, he said that the defense of the newly-acquired territories in the Pacific was a serious problem.

MUST AID NAVY

It was obvious that national safety required Australia to take a serious share in the naval responsibilities of the Empire.

Proceeding to detail the Government's proposals Mr. Hughes said that money would be provided to remedy the present deficiencies in heavy artillery and ammunition, also for light guns.

The training of 16,000 boys each year on reaching the age of 18 would be resumed.

Battleships were still the mainstay of naval defense, but circumstances compelled the Commonwealth to depend for the present on light cruisers and smaller craft.

AIR FORCE STARTED

He hoped for an Imperial naval scheme, in which all the Dominions would co-operate.

An Air Force was being established, under the control of a board, on which the Navy and Army were represented. £600,000 would be allotted for aviation, including civil and commercial branches. Civil aviation would be encouraged to the utmost.

The proposed naval expenditure included £700,000 for transports.

HOLIDAY CAMPS IN FRANCE SEEN BY FOREIGNERS

Liberated Children Get Quarters In Huts Formerly Used By Military

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 11.—M. Ogier, Minister of the Liberated Areas, arrived on Friday at Calmiers, on the coast of the English Channel, to visit a school-children's holiday camp.

Here several hundreds of children from the liberated regions or from countries which have been in German occupation are spending their holidays.

USE MILITARY HUTS

The camp, consisting of 230 military huts, has been repurchased from the British Army by the Minister of Liberated Areas with the aid of funds placed at his disposal by certain American philanthropists.

The Minister was accompanied by Mr. Hugh Wallace, the American Ambassador, and a number of Americans interested in enterprises for assisting the population of the war-stricken areas.

SEES SUFFERING

Senhor Nilo Pecanha, ex-President of the Brazilian Republic, has returned to Paris after a journey through the devastated regions.

"This visit was necessary," he declared, "to show me what France has suffered, and to understand what is due to her."

Tax Revenue Greater Than Was Expected By French Experts

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, September 11.—The total taxation revenue for the month of August amounted to over 800,000,000 francs, which is a large increase as compared with August, 1919, and is also much in excess of the official estimate.

Miners Lose Lives In Jap Mine Fire

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, September 12.—The Takao coal-mine in Kyushu is on fire. It is estimated that there are twenty-six killed. The cause of the outbreak, it is presumed, was an accident to electric wires or apparatus.

Famine Relief Association Will Direct Plea To Guilds

to sell rice cheaply. Such foodstuffs will be exempted from Customs dues and taxes.

Peking, September 13.—At a meeting yesterday Liang Shih-yi and Li Yuan-hung were elected patrons, Chow Erh-hsun President and Hsiung Hsi-ling and Wang Tah-hsien Vice-Presidents of the Famine Relief Association. It was resolved immediately to despatch delegates to the famine centers to report as to the best measures to be taken.

The Government proposes to rush supplies to the famine areas, to distribute food gratis to those physically unfit for labor and to provide constructive employment for those able to work and also to remove as many people as possible from the famine regions. Supplies are reaching a portion of the famine areas from the Hsuchow district to the south where supplies of grain are normal.

AMERICAN RESIDENTS IN PEKING ACTIVE

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, September 9.—American measures for the relief of sufferers in the famine-stricken districts of Chihli, Shansi, Honan and Shantung are beginning to take on a real form. The American Legation sent a telegram to the State Department on Sunday outlining conditions in the afflicted areas and requesting the assistance of the American Red Cross in the relief of the famine sufferers.

Since Sunday various American residents of Peking who are interested in the famine situation have conferred with Mr. Charles R. Crane, the American Minister, with the result that a meeting of the entire American community of Peking will be held at the Minister's residence on Tuesday afternoon, September 14, at 5 o'clock. According to the present plan this meeting will be invited to appoint a representative American committee for the undertaking of relief measures in behalf of the community; and it is hoped that this committee will be able to co-operate with British, French and other foreign representatives in the formation of a great international famine relief committee.

OTHER AGENCIES ACTIVE

The American Chamber of Commerce of Peking, which met this afternoon at the Peking Club, likewise expressed itself in warm sympathy with every effort to bring relief to the starving people of Chihli, Shansi, Honan and Shantung; and the president of the Chamber has been authorised to communicate with the other American chambers of commerce in this country with a view to obtaining the co-operation of all American business men and ascertaining just what part each chamber can play in the work of relief.

The Standard Oil Company, the British-American Tobacco Company and the local missions have, it is understood arranged to telegraph to their representatives in the famine districts asking them to send in detailed reports regarding conditions in and near their stations in time for Tuesday's meeting at the American Legation.

Every possible preparatory step is being taken, so that the only important step that remains is the formation of a strong international committee, worthy of the confidence of both foreigners and Chinese and strong enough to co-operate with the Central Government in any measures that it may undertake.

China Awakening Says Painleve On Departure

than deep-rooted, and only paralyse to a very faint degree the working activity of the nation. It must be realised that these events are being enacted on a stage greater than Europe, and, further, that the Chinese Republic has only existed for less than ten years.

"(2) Contrary to the opinion current in Europe, it is not true that the Chinese nation is vegetating in a sort of stagnation. The evolution of its ideas, customs, and industries is, on the contrary, quickening in striking fashion. The 20th century will be China's century, just as the outstanding feature of the 19th century was the unprecedented development of America.

THIRST TO LEARN

"(3) The thirst to learn and to become familiar with the Western Sciences is prodigious among the young generation in China. In spire of difference of language, the Chinese brain is just as capable of cultivating the rational and experimental sciences as the European brain. But what this huge nation still lacks is scientific atmosphere. The Western nations must help China to form the first thousand of Chinese savants as speedily as possible. China will then resume the place which she occupied in the past and which she must occupy again, in world civilisation.

"(4) Public opinion already exists in China today, and, although it does not manifest itself, as in the West, in accordance with legal forms prescribed by a Constitution, it is already singularly powerful, and will soon be irresistible. It is becoming more and more national without being anti-foreign. In a recent and penetrating work, M. Hovelaque wrote that China was a civilisation rather than a nation. Tomorrow, whilst remaining a civilisation, China will be a nation, extensively decentralised, but one and indivisible, a nation which will be an element of weight in the concert of civilised Powers."

MOTORIST PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Judgment In Case Against A. F. Ollerdessen Is Reserved

The case against A. F. Ollerdessen in the United States Court for China was heard yesterday and judgment was reserved. The charge was that on August 4, the accused did unlawfully and feloniously kill a human being, unvoluntarily and without malice, by, while in charge of a motor car on Bubbling Well Road without due caution, running into a canvas shed under which the deceased was working.

Accused pleaded guilty.

Mr. Roland Haskell appeared for the prosecution while accused was represented by Mr. Sterling Fessenden.

CHARGE IS READ

Counsel for the prosecution pointed out that the accused had not yet been arraigned or entered his plea. Mr. Fessenden confirmed Mr. Haskell's statement The charge was then read to the accused, who pleaded guilty.

Mr. Fessenden then went into a statement of the circumstances of the case. Accused, he said, met the prosecution quite frankly. He admitted the offense for which the lowest possible charge of manslaughter had been framed. He had just bought some flowers at the shop near the Olympic Theater on Bubbling Well Road and had re-started the car. He was going at not more than 15 miles an hour. It was a very windy day and just before he got to the corner of Carter Road his eye was taken off the road by the wind blowing open the papers in which the flowers were wrapped. In that instant the accident occurred. Technically there was a certain amount of negligence on the part of the accused, but he wished to emphasise that it was a very low degree. Nothing in the circumstances showed that he was guilty of any want or disregard of human life or that he was operating his car recklessly or in a dangerous manner.

AIDED ACCIDENT VICTIM

Mr. Ollerdessen, Counsel stated, after the accident, did all he could for the unfortunate man and he had since paid the relatives Tls. 500 compensation, through, an official of the Telephone Co. by whom deceased was employed. Mr. Ollerdessen had been driving cars in Shanghai for many years and he had never been reported by the police or even cautioned. He was in this particular instance the victim of what was really nothing more or less than a misadventure. He was only very slightly to blame for the degree of negligence. The Court would appreciate that point, that the negligence was very slight.

Mr. Haskell said that from his instructions from the police the facts seemed to be very much as Mr. Fessenden had stated with the exception possibly of two Sikh policemen who said the car was going fast. They were not very definite, it was true, upon that point but he thought it would assist them to decide the case if evidence were called, particularly on that point.

Prosecution witnesses were then called and examined. The first witness, C.P.C. 1424, said the car was going quite fast. faster than a tram car, much faster than a tram car.

Cross-examined—The car was travelling faster than ordinary cars. He could not say what the ordinary speed was.

The Court then reserved judgment.

LOCAL LIBERTY FOR ALSATIANS FRENCH PLEDGE

Millerand Continues Tour And Is Given Ovation By Great Crowds

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 11.—M. Millerand today visited the Rhine ports and Strasbourg, where he attended a banquet given at the Hotel de Ville. At the conclusion of the banquet he addressed the crowd, which had gathered outside, from the balcony, and was accorded a hearty ovation.

Paris, September 11.—M. Millerand today visited the Alsatian cities of Selestat and Colmar, where he again asserted the Government's readiness to maintain local liberties as far as compatible with French unity.

According to the Echo de Paris, the Swiss President has expressed a desire to meet M. Millerand on the occasion of the latter's forthcoming visit to Geneva.

ALSACE REMAINS FRENCH

Paris, September 12.—M. Millerand is continuing his tour through Alsace amidst demonstrations of enthusiasm by the population. Speaking on Saturday, he used the following words: "Alsace is and will remain French, but she will also remain Alsace, with her own manners and customs."

Addressing the officials of Colmar, M. Millerand made the following notable pronouncement: "You have two duties to fulfill. I am convinced that you will never fail in them. The first is I will not say to love France well—because to say that would be doing you an injustice—but it is necessary to serve her here with more zeal and devotion than elsewhere, because it is from here that an example should continue to be set. The second duty is to respect, in your contact with the population, the customs to which this beautiful land is so profoundly attached, and this course moreover is in perfect harmony with the general interests of the country."

GIVES IMPRESSIONS

At Mulhouse, where he was greeted with enthusiastic ovations, M. Millerand briefly related the impressions he had gained during his present tour. He concluded his speech by saying: "We never forget that the present occupation of the left bank of the Rhine, in conjunction with our Allies, is for us a strict obligation to hold it, because, if we abandoned it, we should have nothing left. We should not have any pledge of victory and of the Treaty."

"Let us not slumber in victory," he added.

Paris, September 10.—According to Le Matin, the League for the Independence of the Palatinate has sent M. Millerand an address of greeting, as being the head of the oldest Republic in Europe. The address expresses the wish that M. Millerand's visit to the Rhineland may result in the amelioration of the political and economic situation in the Palatinate, which, it declares, has been neglected by Germany.

GERMANS FULFILL PLEDGES AS TO ARMS, IS FINDING

Rewards Offered By Officials Result In Unearthing Of Hidden Weapons

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 10.—The latest official returns show that Germany is surrendering and destroying arms in accordance with the Peace Treaty in an entirely satisfactory manner, especially in the matter of guns. Twenty-seven thousand of the latter have been surrendered, and at the present rate Germany by November will not possess any guns beyond those allowed in the Treaty.

Twenty-five thousand machine-guns have been destroyed, and 26,000 remain, while 13,000,000 of live shells and 1,400,000 rifles have been destroyed.

The German Government, by offers of rewards, is endeavoring to collect large numbers of rifles which are known to be hidden in various parts of the country, but the Reparations Commission realises the difficulties of the authorities in this respect.

A hundred million rounds of small-arms ammunition have been destroyed, but double that number still remain intact.

The utmost vigilance is being exercised at Essen, but there is no reason to suppose that prohibited war material is being turned out secretly.

Strong Forces Take Field To Put Down Disturbances On Persian Railway

(Reuter's Service)

Bagdad, Sept. 9.—The British relief column has arrived at Shahraban and occupied the town without incident. Mrs. Buchanan and some Indian prisoners have been released.

On the night of Sept. 7 the insurgents made unsuccessful attempts to cut the wires and rush the pickets at Samawa.

There is no change to report from elsewhere.

TROOPS ON MOVE

London, September 11.—A War Office announcement states that a strong column of Indian cavalry, artillery and infantry, under Brigadier-General Conyngham, left Bakuba, north-east of Bagdad, on September 6 to operate in a north-easterly direction along the Persian Railway. This column reached Abuhawa, 12 miles from Bakuba, without opposition.

Another column, commanded by Lieut.-Colonel Greer, set out from Kizil Robat on September 5 with the object of operating on a south-westerly direction towards the first-mentioned column. The two columns are converging on Shahraban, where Capt. Buchanan and his wife were taken prisoner.

TO CLEAR RAILWAY

The object of this double expedition is to clear the railway into Persia, and bring Kerind—the Persian camp where the British women and children are—into touch with Bagdad. Again, incidentally, it should be the means of rescuing Mrs. Buchanan and her companions.

Bakuba was in rebel hands a fortnight ago.

The Government has accepted a generous offer from the Maharaja of Kapurtala to place a force of Kapurtala Infantry at the disposal of the General Officer Commanding in Mesopotamia, for service there. This unit will accordingly sail from India shortly.

Precious Metals Decline In U.S., Says Mint's Head

Washington, September 12.—Mr. Baker, director of the United States mint, announced today that the production of gold and silver declined last year.

Leviathan May Never Sail Seas Again Because Of Expense Of Repairs

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 11.—The New York correspondent of the Times learns that the 54,000 ton liner Leviathan, formerly the Vaterland, may never again see the high seas. She is lying in Hoboken Dock, New Jersey, partially sunk in the mud in such a state of disrepair that over £2,000,000 will be necessary to restore her for sea service.

The Shipping Board has also had restored to it the Von Steuben, the former German liner Kronprinz Wilhelm, which was recently sold by auction for £800,000. This is taken to indicate that the latter vessel is in as bad a condition as the Leviathan.

Tong Is Accused Of Seeking High Place

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, September 12.—The opinion in Peking is that recent developments confirm the view that General Tang Chi-yao is using the Old Parliament in order to create for himself an important position, which will necessitate the consideration of the Government in a final settlement. It is also believed that General Chen Chiung-ming will join the North, if he is offered a suitable post.

INTERPORT CONTEST ENDS IN VICTORY FOR SHANGHAI BY SEVENTY-SEVEN RUNS

Ollerdessen Tops Local Score In Both Innings; O'Hara And Billings Take 19 Of The 20 Tientsin Wickets; Tientsin's Fine Fielding Is Feature Of Game

After a visit to the S.C.C. ground at half past six on Sunday morning, the umpires and captains of the Tientsin and Shanghai teams came to the conclusion that if there was no more rain the interport match could be continued at 10:30. The sun came out before that hour, a soft zephyr blew across the ground and helped to put the pitch in some sort of order, and crowds of people arrived in the hopes of seeing the game. Sharp to time Billings led his men into the field, and shortly afterwards Rasmussen and Crawfurd took up their positions at the wickets to face the attack of Billings and Hansell. Tientsin battled gamely, but what with the pitch doing the strangest things, and the local fielders taking a leaf out of the visitors book, and taking the ball wherever it went better than they have ever done this season, the innings came to an end when Tientsin were still short of the century by seven runs.

Both O'Hara and Billings were in splendid form with the ball, and after Rasmussen was beaten by a fine delivery by the local skipper, and had to return to the pavilion, there was never any likelihood of the other bats giving serious trouble. Ollerdessen brought off a spectacular catch which dismissed Hagen.

RUNS NOT EASY TO GET

Soon after noon Ollerdessen and Quayle opened the second innings for Shanghai facing the bowling of Rasmussen and Douglas. Runs were not easy to get, and scoring was slow. The evident idea of the Shanghai team was to go in and have a knock so that sufficient runs could be obtained in time to declare and still give plenty of time to dispose of the visitors. These tactics brought about the fall of five wickets for 93 runs, and this gave Tientsin a total of 292 runs to get to call things a draw. Pluckily as they played, the batsmen were no match for Billings and O'Hara, who got rid of them when they were still short by 77 of the Shanghai total.

It was a fine game in every way. We won because we undoubtedly had the better team. But if Tientsin lost they can go back with any amount of laurels in their caps. They put up a splendid fight. They called for unanimous admiration by their prowess as fielders. This is the first time the northern port has visited Shanghai. Whenever they come in the future we can look forward to seeing cricket. Rasmussen can feel proud of his work, he was the star of the game. His double feat with bat and ball will long be remembered here.

Harry Ollerdessen proved to be the best batsman we had to pit against Tientsin. His innings of 60 was invaluable, coming as it did when our other local bats seemed to be suffering from nerves. Wainwright is also to be congratulated upon some brilliant hitting. Ollerdessen topped the score both innings taking 43 of the 93 that the local five batsmen made in the second venture.

BOWLERS IN GRAND FORM

Of the twenty wickets that fell on the visitors side, nineteen of them were taken by O'Hara and Billings. The former had 10 wickets for 82 while the latter had 9 for 89 to his credit. Both bowlers were in grand form and kept a length and a variety of bowling which gave the visitors no chance. With these stalwart trundlers at hand it will take a very strong team to beat Shanghai.

LAWN BOWLS TEAM OF HANKOW HERE

The Hankow lawn bowls team that will meet the Shanghai players in the Inter-port match tomorrow arrived yesterday. The visiting players are Messrs. G. B. V. Miller, J. W. Burtwell, S. J. Godwin and J. Paul.

If the purpose can be carried through the forthcoming match will be a triangular contest with the Hongkong team as one of the competitors, but it is unlikely that the Hongkong team will arrive before September 20 and certain members of the Hankow team feel that they will be unable to remain here until after that date. Following the Inter-port match tomorrow a series of inter-club games are to be played with the visitors.

The inter-club match between the Lawn Bowls Club and the Junior Golf Club (the last of the seaon) was played on the Lawn Bowls Club's greens Sunday and resulted in a win for the homesters by 34 points. The teams and scores were as follows, the Lawn Bowls Club being first mentioned:

Defeats Americans For British Golf Title

GEORGE DUNCAN INTL

George Duncan, veteran Scotch golfer, who won the British open golf championship in a sensational finish at Deal, England, with a score of 303 for 72 holes. Jim Barnes, the American professional, finished fifth with a score of 308.

Ruth Will Try For 55 Homers This Season

Detroit, August 7.—Having brought up his total of home runs for the season to forty-one by collecting two circuit swats in the game with the Tigers here yesterday afternoon, Babe Ruth has set the new mark which he aspires to attain during 1920 at fifty-five. Heretofore Bambino figured on making fifty homers this season, but he has been gathering them at such a rapid rate that now, with nearly two months left in which to shoot at the mark, he set the target five points higher.

Manager Huggins thinks that his batting ace will be able to crack out that number of circuit clouts, having the opinion that from now on opposing pitchers will be more lenient with Babe in intentionally passing him than earlier in the season.

I should not be surprised if Colonels Ruppert and Huston will sanction Babe's going out next season to lead the American League in batting. He will have as rivals, of course, Speaker, Jackson, Sisler and Cobb, and possibly others, for the batting crown, but Babe has confidence that, by trying for shorter hits instead of swinging his head off in an effort to knock the ball over the fence, he will get a higher percentage of safe blows.

There is no doubt in the minds of those who have followed Ruth closely all season, as the writer has, that the Son of Swat is capable of hitting at .400 percent for an entire season if given as fair a chance as others are. In fact, I think Ruth would exceed the .400 mark.

HOMERS EXCEED SINGLES

As it is now, after being passed 125 times or so, he is close to that high average. He has made more home runs than singles, showing conclusively that by cutting out his home run attempts, his average could be greatly increased.

The baseball public, however, having stamped its approval this year on slugging, it is doubtful if the two Colonels would agree to the practical squelching of their biggest batting asset, Ruth, who has drawn more patrons to the Yankee games than ever attended such events in the history of the game.

Manager Huggins made a big shift in his batting order yesterday. Mensel was benched and Ruth was shoved up to third place. With the big shift the Yankees showed improvement and also developed pep to a high degree. They really looked good, and that was encouraging after their long continued slump. Meusel will be utilised as a pinch-hitter. Dauss passed Ruth but once. The spectators were frenzied with delight over Babe's circuit clouts, both of which he got off Dauss.

YANKS GET FOUR IN FIRST

The Yankees got busy in the very first inning. Ward, the new lead-off man, walked. Peck pushed a single to center. Ruth was given one chance to swat but he missed. Dauss did not take another chance in this inning, and Babe walked, filling the bases. Pratt forced Ward at the plate, but Duffy Lowis came across with a clean-up triple to right center and scored on Pipp's out. Pipp hit a slinger to Pinelli.

Two runs was the Tigers portion for the first inning. Young walked but was forced by Jones. Cobb singled, sending Jones to third from where the scored on Veach's out at first. Peck making a splendid stop. Heilmann hammered to the left field fense for a triple and Cobb ambled home.

The Tigers tied the score in the second. Jones, Young and Pinelli singled and Dauss drew a pass between the bingling. A fine throw by Bodie to Quinn who relayed to Ward, smothered the rally.

In the fourth, Dauss pitched two wide ones to Ruth, then shot in a straight swift ball a little below Babe's waist. Oh, boy, what a swat! The ball shot off the bat like a streak and landed in the top row of seats in the open stand back of right center. What a cheer Bambino received! It was his fortieth.

In the fifth, Peck led off with a sizzler past third for two bases. Ruth flied a mile or so high to right, Peck taking third and scoring on Penelli's boot of Flagstead's peg. Pratt drew a punched ticket, but was run down trying a steal while Dauss held the ball. Lewis stung Pinelli's mauleys with a hot line drive.

Pipp and Bodie walked to the plate and right back to the bench in the sixth, but Ruel ripped off a single to left and Mogridge walked. Ward scorched a one-sacker to center, on which Ruel rode home. Mogridge did likewise on Peck's line stab to left for a bag.

RUTH MAKES FORTY-FIRST

Then with Ward and Peck on the stage was all set for Ruth's forty-first ring around-a-rosy. Babe made it, too. Dauss, after two wide pitches, sent in a low straight one just above the champion slugger's knees. The ball was stung on a dead line over the right field fense. From the high press box the ball could be seen bounding along Trumbul avenue, the street adjoining the park, for another block. It was one of the swiftest drives Babe ever made. Dauss singled in the Tigers' half, but that was all.

Oldham relieved Dauss on the Tigers slab in the eighth. Ward walked, but was forced out by Peck. The crowd yelled for another homer by Ruth, but he rolled to Young, forcing out Peck. A muff by Heliman put Babe on second. Pratt walked, but they were both left.

Flagstead singled and Pinelli bunted safely in the Tigers' eighth. Stanage doubled to left, scoring Flagstead Young got a two-sacker over third sending Pinelli and Stanage across. Hale batted for Jones, but flied out.

London, Sept. 11.—Henry Sullivan, an American, has just failed to swim the English Channel from Dover.

He was compelled to give up the attempt when two and a half miles from the French coast, owing to severe pains in the stomach.

By that time he had been 18 hours in the water.

DIEGEL, WITH 71, LEADS THE FIELD IN THE FIRST ROUND OF U.S. GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Jones, Paired With Vardon, Ties Englishman With 75 Before Large Gallery; 2 54 Start Play On Openin g Day

Toledo, August 10.—Harry Vardon, the veteran English golfer, who had won the British championship before Robert T. Jones of Atlanta, Ga., was born, had a chance today in the opening of the tournament for the national open championship to see of what sterling material the little fellow is made. With Toledo the Mecca for the world's leading golfers the gallery on the reconstructed Inverness links selected Vardon and Jones as the pair to follow. Slashing, sparkling golf was seen, and at the end of the day's play the youngster was on even terms with the master of the links, each with a card of 75.

Jones, familiarly called Bobby by all the golf world, grasped the situation at the start. That he was thirty-three years younger than the Britisher did not at all feaze the youthful Southern champion. Hole after hole he made, apparently oblivious of the reputation of the Britisher, and at the end of the out-going trip he led by 34 to 40.

The Southern champion, who has fallen in weight recently, set a terrific pace, scoring two pars, a birdie 2 on the 135 yard third and pars on the rest of the first nine, while Vardon, trapped on the first and second holes and taking three putts on the fourth, could do no better than 40.

The luck changed on the homeward trip. The Briton with a birdie 3 on the 359 yard eleventh, a 2 on the 150 yard thirteenth and 5 on the 332 yard eighteenth got home in 35, one under par, despite 5s on the 400 yard sixteenth and 430 yard seventeenth. Jones began to find the traps and miss putts on this nine and expended forty-one strokes, so that the scores were even at the finish.

Everybody tonight is wondering what "Bobby" will do tomorrow and what his total score for the qualifying round will be.

RAY SAYS HE'S WORRIED

Can any one imagine big Ted Ray of England being worried over the possibility of his not qualifying in the open golf championship of the United States or any other kind of a golf tournament, for that matter? Yesterday the gallery following the tall Channel Islander was trotting in his wake as he limbered up for the classic while remarking on how the American boys would have to work their heads off to keep him from carrying their championship cup back to Merry England.

The first of two qualifying rounds played today over the Inverness links brought Ray nothing better than an 80, and as a result the man who in 1912 won the British open championship is worried over his prospects. He says he is, at least, although it is just as well to interpolate that not many who know his capabilities as a golfer believe that he is in earnest or that he will not come back with an exhibition of linksmanship on the second qualifying round tomorrow that will land him well up among the sixty-four who become eligible to play off over seventy-two holes on Thursday and Friday for the title.

There were more than seventy players better than Ray in this opening spin. Whereas a day or two ago it seemed that 156 would be required to qualify, it now looks as though 158 will do the trick. Ted should do that comfortable, for he showed in this round that he can spill strokes all over the course and still get around in fair figures. For the big Briton it was something akin to an off day, for only in spots did he settle down to steady play. Even with 40 out Ted should have finished comfortably in the 70s.

RAY MAKES A SLIP

Walter Hagen, the American champion, put a 38 to an outgoing 40. Ray also seemed to be playing the same sort of energy conserving game, but whereas Hagen cut it just fine enough to be safe, Ray slipped at a most inopportune time, taking six on the par 4 sixteenth and 5 on the par 4 eighteenth. That is where old man gloom perched upon the broad shoulders of Britain's mighty driver.

It is only fair to say that Ray was out of luck; for instance, that 6 on the sixteenth was attributable chiefly to a lie in a wagon rut. The ball was hole high, but from that miserable position just off the green Ray took four more to get down. From the seventh Ted had been bowling along nicely, but this put a crimp in his game. Still he had but to make a couple of pars for a 79, which, despite their difference of only one shot, always looks better than 80. On the seventeenth the 4 was forthcoming, but approaching the home hole Ray cut a trifle too far behind the ball with the almost inevitable result that it fluffed into the air, sailed forward lazily and dropped into the sand trap in front of the green. The 5 that Ray marked up here lifted his score to 80. Neither this card nor the one to be made tomorrow will count for the championship, of course, but it leaves Ray with his position still to make secure. Tomorrow he will go out realising that he cannot afford to waste a single stroke.

Vardon at 75 can now afford to take things easy, and at 78 there is nothing particular to disturb Hagen's peace of mind. Jim Barnes had a 79 card, but a card of this sort should be as easy as rolling off a log for the professional champion of the United States. Still Ray can testify as to how the shots can be squandered when one is not over careful. Barnes had to thank a fine 3 on the home green and his wonderful command of back spin for bringing him in ahead of Ray. Jim stuck that last approach of his up two feet to the right of the cup. The stroke won a round of applause from the gallery on the club piazza and sprinkled on the hillside overlooking that fine valley hole. When he tapped the ball in for his 3 Jim got still another hand.

BARNES NOT ALARMED

Barnes refused to be alarmed at a 79, but he did complain that it was mighty hard to keep one's mind on the game when a stop had to be made on almost every shot and it took three hours or more to get around, for the percentage of defaults was extremely small, and of the 268 entries reported yesterday, 254 went around. There would have been more than this even, but after waiting around all day and seeing the schedule finally fall behind by an hour several of the payers decided to withdraw. The field cleared from the first tee at exactly 5 o'clock, this despite the fact that play had begun promptly at 7 in the morning.

While on these first thirty-six holes the leader gets no more for his pairs than the contestant in sixty-fourth place, it is interesting to note the kind of golf that was played in some cases and the men who were playing it. Leo Diegel of Lake Shore, Chicago, was up in front with a 71, and right on his heels were Jock Hutchison, the Western open champion; Harry Hampton, Richmond, Va., and R. E. Knepper of Sioux City at 72. Knepper is a young amateur. He had gone out in a fine 34 and back in 38.

J. Douglas Edgar of Druid Hills, Atlanta, holder of the Canadian open championship, was in his accustomed place with a 73, and among those at 74 were to be found Lawrence Ayton of Evanston, the former Scottish international player; Jack Golden of Tuxedo and D. K. White of Toledo, who partnered Charlie Lorms of Inverness in the match against Ray and Vardon last Sunday.

Some of the best putting of the day was done by Jock Hutchinson, who on eleven greens needed only a single putt each.

Diegel, who is a Detroit product, holed several good putts on his mound. His card, which is a competitive record for the course as it now is, read as follows:

Out ... 3 4 3 5 5 3 3 4 5—35—
In ... 4 2 5 3 4 5 4 5 3—36—71

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in civilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

A Tuchun City

(China Press Correspondence)

Chuchow, September 8.—Tuchuns have shown themselves self-centered, proud, revellers in power and immoral. Some of them are better, some worse. They are all alike, however, in their desire to surround themselves with modern improvements and inventions. In this they are imitators of the late Emperor Kwang Hsu who filled his palace and grounds with western inventions.

Ni Shih-chung, our Anhwei Tuchun, is like all the rest. Twelve years ago Pengpu was a mud village of a score of families. It would perhaps have remained so to this day had not the engineers on the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad construction found in necessary to hunt along the Hwai River for a better crossing place than Lin-hwai-kwan furnished. They found it at, or opposite, Pengpu. Then, behold, a mud village was suddenly transformed into one of the important cities of China.

It took one of the engineers the whole three years of the construction period to throw across the Hwai the great bridge which on the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad is second in importance only to the great bridge over the Yellow River. The quick wit and determined persistence of another of the engineers saved this Hwai River bridge from being destroyed during the 1913 Rebellion. Pengpu is about half way between Pukow and Hsuchowfu; so the engineer-in-chief placed there an engine house and made it the end of a short division.

OUT FOR POWER

About the time of 1913 Rebellion Ni Shih-chung was made Governor of Anhwei. He graduated into a Tuchun. He was out for power and influence. He saw how important the control of the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad, as it runs through the eastern part of his province is. Chang Hsun had run up and down this line during the early stormy days of the Republic. Hsuchowfu, Pukow and Nanking are in Kiangsu. Unless he placed a considerable force somewhere along the line as it runs through eastern Anhwei, he would have no control of the line. The Hwai River with its many branching streams give a waterway to nearly a third of Anhwei Province. Then where the railroad crosses the Hwai is the natural strategic point for control, both of the railroad and the province.

Six years ago Ni Shih-chung moved his army headquarters to Pengpu, this point of intersection of the Hwai and the railroad. The place had already become quite a shipping point. It was quicker to bring grain to that point and then use the railway to hurry it to the Yangtsze and to Shanghai. The control of his shipping point of itself has brought in great revenue. An army at this point not only cuts connection between north and south Kiangsu, but between Nanking and Peking. One can thus understand how he locating his headquarters in Pengpu has added to Ni Shih-chung's power and influence through all China.

DISASTEROUS FIRES

Since his settling in the place twice have fires swept away large portions. In the first one a hundred thousand dollars worth of grain stacked on the river bank awaiting cars to be moved, was destroyed along with hundreds of flimsy Chinese buildings. Ni's soldiers seized the occasion to loot and help spread the fire. In the second fire the Tuchun had his men in better control and looting was chiefly by irresponsible characters. Except to those who lost all of their property these fires were a blessing. General Ni learned enough of western methods, so that the buildings which have since gone up have been better constructed. Streets have been widened, macadamised and underdrained.

It is a delight to stop off in Pengpu and take a day in the place. The new houses are solidly built of brick and a large number of them are two stories high. The streets are kept wonderfully clean for an interior city. No nuisances are allowed. Punishment is sure to fall upon a careless offender. There are probably fifty thousand people resident there, including perhaps fifteen thousand troops. These latter have their own quarters quite apart from the main city. The main street across the railroad has been elevated and bridged. Another busy street is likewise being bridged over. The railroad authorities have walled in a wide stretch through the city and they keep it as clean as are the city streets. Electric lights make an evening stroll attractive.

BUILDING NEW HARBOR

Some years ago the railroad, for the convenience of river shipping, built a small harbor on the side of the river. Traffic has so grown that it is insufficient. General Ni, together with interested friends, are now constructing a huge harbor just west of town, which when completed will commodate thousands of shipping junks. They are using the excavated dirt to fill in the adjoining land. The railroad has already filled in a large section. The Standard Oil Co. have a good sized plant and resident foreign agents. They are under Nanking office; yet it is an interesting fact that three-fourths of the territory covered from their Nanking office is in this Pengpu office field. Their agents reach west almost to the Hankow-Peking R. R., following up the branches of the Hwai River. They reach north into Shantung.

By the side of the Standard Oil Co. grounds a group of China's leading banks are erecting reinforced concrete godowns. Much of their business will be done with grain dealers. Remembering the great quantity of grain destroyed by the first fire one realises why they are building such a godown. They do not intend grain upon which they have loaned funds to be likewise destroyed.

ENORMOUS LAND VALUES

Land even on the outskirts is considered worth $10,000 a mow. It is costly living in such a place. General Ni appointed a nephew head of the tax department and the nephew believes in collecting everything he can tax. General Ni has surrounded himself with relatives and friends from his native place, Yingchowfu of this same province. They and others are the ones who are putting in the new harbor and many other structures. They expect to see the place made an open port. They expect to receive good interest on their investments. The railroad has just erected a beautiful reinforced concrete platform cover. They are increasing the number of tracks.

Every Chinese in this section believes that Ni Shih-chung and his parasites will have to surrender their jobs. They expect the Nanking Tuchun to take Anhwei under his jurisdiction. That will not likely disturb the ownership of property so Ni's men consider is a sound investment. Morally the place is as rotten as all such places in China. We usually think each a bit worse than the others. Pengpu influential Chinese are determined that their place shall keep up with any competitors. Hundreds of singing girls fill the hotels. They advertise the place. Gambling is the common amusement. It helps to keep capital moving. Should anyone happen to fall heir to more money than he knows how to use, the gambling table gives him a ready outlet. A Chinese business or professional man who has settled there and maintained his moral character is hard to find. The whole place is a sample of what China will be unless the nation takes steps to build up moral character, honor and integrity.

Guide To Mission Stations In East China Published

Of special interest to Missionaries and other travelers in China is the "Guide Book to Important Mission stations in Eastern China" which has just been published by the Methodist Publishing House. It is edited by Mr. Paul Hutchinson of the Methodist Episcopal Church of China.

The book has been compiled for a definite need. A large number of travelers who are particularly interested in the work of the mission stations will visit China during the convention of the World's Sunday School Association to be held here shortly. Many of these will extend their travel through parts of China.

Readers will find here epough to supply all the information necessary for a trip among the mission stations of Eastern China. Besides all kinds of valuable information, the book contains maps of the mission stations in China, of Peking, Shanghai, Soochow, Changsha and the Wu-Han Cities.

The committee in charge of preparing this book has been composed of the Rev. E. C. Lobenstine, M. T. Stauffer, E. G. Tewksbury and the editor, Mr. Hutchinson.

Chinese And Foreigners Unite For Kindergarten This Fall At Hankow

Experienced And Carefully Trained Teacher To Be Brought From United States To Conduct Work

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, September 8.—For the first time, Hankow is having a pioneer kindergarten promoted this fall under the joint auspices of the American Church Mission in Hankow and leading Chinese in Hankow and Hanyang. There has been a growing number of schools for Chinese here, from primary schools to middle schools and academies; but a kindergarten is no doubt a novelty in the educational system in this center.

For several years there has been a growing call for kindergarten work in Hankow. This frequently-expressed desire led to an informal meeting to discuss this matter in June at the American Church Mission compound in the Russian Concession, where educational work for women, from young girls to grown-up ladies, is centered.

Deaconess Edith Hart, Principal of St. Louis School for girls, took the initiative in the movement, and invited a group of interested persons, both Americans and Chinese, to open up the discussion of the kindergarten movement. At this informal meeting, it was unanimously decided that such a school for young children should be opened in Hankow at once; and Deaconess Hart was asked to take charge of the work.

ROOM IS PROVIDED

Deaconess Edith Hart offered a large room, which is in every respect well adapted to the purpose, in the corner of her compound. Again she told of a trained kindergartener who would be available this fall.

The first meeting developed such interest that a second meeting was called in June in which about forty leading persons of Hankow and Hangyang, Chinese and American, were invited. As a result of this meeting, the ideals of the ultimate development of the kindergarten movement were greatly enlarged.

The concensus of opinion seemed to be that a well rounded plan for kindergartens dotted about the city of Hankow should be made with an American lady having special training in this branch of educational work in charge and a group of trained assistants teaching groups of Chinese children in the various Chinese dialects and in English; that possibly a Normal Kindergarten Training School might be established here; and that a special building should be erected for the first, or Model, kindergarten which would be located in the ground of St. Louis School of the American Church Mission, looking forward to similar buildings erected in other centers of the city as the work expands and as trained teachers are secured. This, however, is to develop naturally rather than a sudden attempt at a all-round system of kindergartens.

OFFER ACCEPTED

The second meeting also heartily accepted the offer of Deaconess Hart, who would open the school in the fall assisted by a committee of ladies experienced in the management and detailed internal working of the kindergarten in the building she offered.

The meeting elected as an Organising Committee for the whole project Mr. Y. H. Lao, Chairman; Dr. S. T. Kong and Rev. S. H. Littell, who were asked to draw up such statement and constitution, or basis of organisation, as shall embody the desires and ideas of the community in order to meet the growing needs of this vigorous center of life in the Yangtsze Valley. The Organising Committee were also asked to confer with leading Chinese in order to interest them and enlist their support, financial or moral, to the movement.

At the second meeting, the question of title of the proposed kindergarten came up, when there was continual supply of suggestions from those present. Rev. S. H. Littell, however, suggested Wu Pun, meaning working at the root, which was unanimously admitted to be the best and was adopted.

OFFICERS NAMED

Pursuant to the request of the second meeting, the Organising Committee held a meeting in the office of Mr. Y. H. Lao, Chairman. Rev. S. H. Littell was elected secretary, and Dr. S. T. Kong, treasurer. The committee decided to distribute the statement of the origin and object and constitution of the kindergarten. In order to increase the strength of the committee, they elected seven other leading Chinese who might be interested in the project, thus making a committee of ten together with members of the organising committee.

These elected are: Tsiang Peh-ling, compradore of Arnhold Brothers, W. C. Young, compradore of Sumitomo Bank, T. K. Hu, Executive Secretary of the Hankow Y. M. C. A., Li King-cho, Manager of Nin-yang Brothers Tobacco Company, Liang Pan-shing, compradore of Anderson, Meyer and Company, Chen Sin-chow, compradore of Jardine, Matheson Company, Wong Park-nieh, Dr. S. T. Kong, an American trained mining engineer in Hankow, Lao Yung-hung, comprador of Reiss and Company, and the Reverend S. H. Littell, of St. Paul's Cathedral of the American Church Mission.

These ten persons will elect another ten, thus making a full board of equipment of twenty members.

TO HAVE TRAINED TEACHER

Deaconess Hart, principal, of the proposed Wu Pun Kindergarten, has already written to the American Church Mission Board in New York, urging them to send a trained kindegarten teacher to Hankow. The financial side has been sponsored by the Chinese promotors, and the Committee has authorised Deaconess Hart to expend not over $500 for repairs on the kindergarten building in the Mission compound, urging her to attend to the repairs without delay. For the teacher's salary, the Committee has promised $300 for one year.

All necessary preparations have been made for the opening of the kindergarten by Deaconess Hart. The tuition has been fixed at $10 for half year. Owing to limited room, equipment and staff, only forty children will be received this fall. The Kindergarten will open for the first time on September 15.

Reparations Parley Will Be Postponed

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 11.—Reuter learns that it is expected that the Reparations Conference, the meeting of which at Geneva has provisionally been fixed for September 24, will be postponed till October, as it would otherwise clash with the International Financial Conference which is to open in Brussels on that date, and several delegates have to attend both conferences.

WHEN BABY'S TEETH ARE COMING THROUGH

Baby's Own Tablets Save Pain and Tears.

Teething time not only is a trying period to baby but also means much worry to mothers.

The little one's gums become swollen and tender; he is cross; does not sleep well; is troubled with constipation, colic or diarrhoea and sometimes even convulsions seize him.

During this period nothing can equal the use of Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and make the teething so easy that the mother scarcely realises baby is getting his teeth.

"My experience has been that Baby's Own Tablets allay the fever caused by teething and give baby healthy sleep. My baby has always been healthy except for the fever and restlessness accompanying teething and an occasional cold, but the Tablets have proved so beneficial in these cases that I would not be without them," writes Mrs. R. S. Long, of Peachland, British Colombia.

These Tablets are equally healthful and harmless to the youngest infant and the child of eight years or more, curing constipation, indigestion, colic, diarrhoea, simple fever and worms.

They are to be had from chemists, also post free at 60 cents the vial from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

daily—it is impossible for your teeth to collect "so-called" film or your mouth to become over-acid. We claim no "secret process" with Kolynos. What we do claim is that your teeth under the care of Kolynos will become CLEAN—Just as clean as an ivory knife handle.

WHITE—Just as white as Nature intended them to be. We use no bleaching chemicals.

FREE FROM DECAY—Because a clean tooth does not decay.

Do not be led away by tooth pastes which advertise themselves as "bleachers" or "solvents." Teeth can only be cleaned in the old-time rational way—with a good tooth brush and a sensible tooth paste which cleans and polishes, and leaves your teeth what they should be—just clean.

DRY AGENTS FIND CITIES WIDE OPEN

New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Fail To Uphold Federal Enforcement

PLAN FLYING SQUADRONS

Would Work Directly From Washington In Obtaining Evidence

Washington, July 24.—Federal authorities are greatly concerned over the failure of State and city law officers to co-operate with Government prohibition agents. The fact that the anti-liquor laws are being openly flouted in many of the greatest cities of the country causes chagrin and disappointment to the authorities here.

Violations in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore and a score of other large communities are reported daily. At the same time local prohibition commissioners report to headquarters that they do not secure proper aid and assistance from police, sheriffs, marshals and other officers sworn by law to enforce the statutes.

So difficult has the situation become that John F. Kramer, the Federal Prohibition Commissioner, has begun consultations with William L. Frierson, Assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition matters. It will be definitely decided at these conferences just how much responsibility lies with the local authorities and how much may be expected of them. Once that is determined, the Federal officials will almost certainly insist that help must be forthcoming from the city and State officials.

The Prohibition Bureau of the Treasury Department is not as large an organisation as some of its division chiefs desire. Some of them ask for more men, asserting that they are unable to accomplish satisfactory results with the small force at their command. Others wish to start with the organisations they now have, and get these in running shape before building up.

Commissioner Dalrymple, of the Chicago Department, has been frank and outspoken in his complaint that he is not receiving the aid he should. He has said in authorised statements that Chicago is "wide open."

Vance J. Higgs, Special Attorney General at St. Louis, is another who has issued a statement, declaring that he must have more co-operation. These are cited here as typical instances of the failure in many cities to give the looked-for response.

As a desperate step, the Prohibition Commissioner is now considering organising secret "flying squadrons" in some of the great cities. These "flying squadrons" would be made up of 200 to 300 men, unknown even to other prohibition agents, and working directly under orders from Washington with perhaps the advice of the local Prohibition commissioner.

These "flying squadrons" would gather evidence in anticipation of raids, guard the facts carefully, and then, at a designated "zero hour," make simultaneous raids in various parts of a city.

Wine Grapes Used For Soft Drinks

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 8 (by mail).—When the nation went dry many grape growers thought they would be forced into some other line of business because of the subsequent cessation of wine production, but reports to the Bureau of Markets show that the demand for manufactured grape products now exceeds the supply.

The production of unfermented grape juice and of jams and jellies is utilising an increasing tonnage of grapes each year, these reports state and it is expected that in the not far distant future the annual production of grapes will not meet the demand.

Beautiful Memorial To Nation's Dead As Seen From The Air

An excellent aerial view of the beautiful Arlington Memorial, the tribute of America to her heroes of the Army and Navy, which was dedicated on Decoration Day.

Made of American marble and costing almost $900,000 it is in the form of a huge ampitheatre. The memorial stands in the Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

In the right background of the photograph can be seen the mast of the ill-fated battleship Maine, which was sunk in Havana Harbor.

Paris Youth Spends $8,000 On Taxicabs

Paris, July 24.—Paris claims to have discovered the taxicab chauffeurs' best friend in the person of a youth named Fayollet, 16 years old, who has confessed that he spent more than $8,000 on taxicabs in less than five months.

Fayollet forged a check on his employer for 75,000 francs and indulged in an orgy of spending, meanwhile successfully evading the police until his last thousand francs were wasted in a round of visits to Paris dance halls.

He told the judge in the juvenile court, where he was arraigned, that the greatest pleasure in the world was to jump into a taxicab, name a distant destination and watch the meter tick off the francs.

"An American Woman For Harding"

WE have the following letter from "An American Woman for Harding," and although she failed to inclose her card, we are going to violate our rule and publish it because of its general interest. We have shortened it a bit because we wanted a little space in which to reply, but we have lost none of her arguments. Here follows the letter:

It was a thoughtless and inhuman act on the part of the Editor of the New York Journal of Commerce to administer a dose of political medicine in such form as to leave our Editor of THE CHINA PRESS "in a cold sweat." A local physician should be consulted at once as these symptoms may be but the beginning of something serious and no knowing how soon he too may be "hearing voices in the air." The writer's profound sympathy and best wishes for a complete recovery are extended.

Permit me to quote an extract from THE CHINA PRESS of August 31:

"The American people favor a League of Nations as they have shown in every poll that has been taken."

The "morning after," or Sept. 1 the Editor acknowledges the above to be an untruth in the following extract:

"The country (they, the people in an election at the polls) went wrong when it took the Democratic Congress from Wilson and substituted a Republican one."

Placing the entire blame on the people it goes on to say further:

"With a Democratic Congress who doubts today that the League of Nations Covenant and the Peace Treaty would have been ratified.

Our Editor of THE CHINA PRESS is no less than a brave man. Democrats in this day refrain from calling attention to Mr. Wilson's pathetic appeal to the voters of the United States to elect a Democratic Congress as if they, the Democrats, were the only patriotic Americans. The people at the polls ably replied to that appeal, declaring their contempt and distrust for a Wilsonian League of Nations, by the election of a Republican Congress.

Still another extract reads:

"Wilson, his Cabinet and the Democratic Congress did their work in close unity and harmony."

Just which Cabinet Mr. Editor do you mean? There have been so many resignations and changes that I presume Wilson himself is forced to refer to his Cabinet roster in order definitely to determine just who comprises it from one week to another. Probably the meaning you wish to convey, by the use of the words "unity and harmony," is that there have been no casualties, no lives lost, which is encouraging news under the circumstances. We are now to imagine that we have been listening only to harmonious love ditties sung by the "silver-tongued orator," Mr. Bryan, culminating in his "teacher may I go out" resignation. If my memory serves me right Mr. Garrison left another Cabinet chair vacant, but I leave the description of his touching departure to those with imaginations strong enough to "hear voices in the air"; they only could do it justice. And there were others!

I possess a Webster's unabridged dictionary, but I have searched in vain for a satisfactory meaning for these words "unity and harmony" since reading your editorial. Therefore, will you kindly enlighten me? At present it is impossible for me to believe that six of eight tom-cats killing one another in the back yard are proceeding with "unity and harmony" and that their blood-curdling feline shrieks are but the soft strains of a popular wedding march.

Much more, in fact volumnes, might be written with reference to these two marvelous editorials, but time and space will not permit. Just a word, however, with further reference to the closing paragraph of your editorial of Sept. 1. The portion with which the writer thoroughly agrees follows:

"With a Democratic Congress who doubts today that the League of Nations Covenant and the Peace Treaty would have been ratified."

No one doubts this Mr. Editor. No one doubts that if the Democrats had had their way they would have "signed away with the pen what Washington won with the sword." The Father of our Country, that greatest of all American statesmen said, "keep out of European entanglements" and that is just what we are going to do. After the votes have been counted on the second of November next, you will find that we have enough red blooded Americans in the United States to elect a man interested in hearing the voices of the American people, not listening and straining his ears for "voices in the air." They will elect a man capable of bringing order out of chaos and returning our country to a wholesome, safe and sane representative government—"government of the people, by the people, for the people."

They will elect a man who realises that there are many, many problems of far more vital importance to our Nation today than this League of Nations issue, which you place as "paramount."

If there are any good Democrats who feel personally that they are the Saviors of the peoples of the earth, let them—go to it—renounce their citizenship in the United States and become a Pole, a Slav, a Turk—all in one if those countries will stand for them, but they cannot sign away the blood of American manhood for all generations. They cannot force my father, husband, brother and son to give up all that is dear to them and fight in foreign lands to help keep intact the boundaries of other nations, or preserve order in countries the wealth of which is being divided by our allies.

Every loyal American will give his life to preserve his country and his flag, but Mr. Editor you cannot substitute a League of Nations for the Constitution of the United States, nor any other flag for the Stars and Stripes.

AN AMERICAN WOMAN FOR MR. HARDING.

In briefly replying to the foregoing, let us take up the first point, that "The American people favor a League of Nations as they have shown in every poll." That we were referring to the newspaper polls, taken after the Treaty and Convenant were placed before the Senate, was, we think, plainly enough indicated, and does our correspondent deny that the polls, taken all during the summer of 1919, showed that the country was for the League 9 or 10 to one? Or does she deny that eighty senators have by their recorded votes shown that they favored the League of Nations—this after the League and Treaty were before them for action? They divided on the question of the Lodge Reservations, but they were for the League and the principles it represents.

The election the correspondent refers to was held before the Treaty and Covenant had been completed, and Wilson by appealing to the people to give him a Democratic Congress was merely anticipating the exact situation which developed and which we have frequently discussed. In the editorial our correspondent criticises we did say that "Wilson, his Cabinet and the Democratic Congress did their work in close unity and harmony." We were possibly wrong in including the Cabinet, which is the only thing under this heading our correspondent argues about.

But the point we were dealing with related to the relationship between Congress and the President, which was the same point that President Wilson had in mind when he made his appeal. The Cabinet is not elective and the President was not running for office. He was fighting to get a Democratic Congress so that he could go on with his work. The country didn't give it to him and the work stopped.

And we repeat that if the country had given him a Democratic Congress, the League and Treaty would have been ratified. We also say that if the President and Congress had been Republican the Treaty and Covenant would have been ratified. Does our correspondent deny this? Weren't all the Republican candidates for the Presidential nomination with the single exception of Johnson running on pro-League platforms? The Chicago Compromise by which the Republican Party put Harding on Johnson's platform in order to keep Johnson from bolting the party is the thing that has created most of the confusion on this issue. The Johnson faction are now claiming that Harding is against the League, while most of the other Republican leaders are asserting that he is for the, or rather, a league.

And we hope in conclusion that our correspondent will not keep on saying that by going into a League of Nations we are signing away our independence, or "signing away with the pen what Washington won with the sword." We do not give up any of our territory nor do we commit ourselves to war without congressional sanction. Nobody is making that argument nowadays.

And the League of Nations is the paramount issue. There is no domestic issue anywhere near it in importance to the future of America. Our domestic issues we can fight out at any time, but the League of Nations issue we must decide now.

Revolt!

BY ANNE PEACOCK

I am Revolt!
Behold me!
My breath is miasma,
My hands are red.
I speak of Love,
But I love nothing save myself.
All else I hate.
I speak of Brotherhood,
But I do not believe.
I am an Individualist—
For one individual—
Myself.

I am Revolt!
I shall dethrone your God.
I do not believe in Him:
Nevertheless, I shall dethrone Him.
I shall pull down the mighty.
The strong, the brave, the intelligent
Have ruled long enough.
Now shall the weak, the poor, the ignorant
Rule the world.
For that is Progress!
I shall take all the wealth,
I shall eat of the finest foods,
I shall drink the rarest wines,
And the fair white women of the rich
Shall be mine.

I am Revolt!
I preach Peace,
But I bring Hatred,
And the Torch, and the Sword.
I shall destroy—destroy!
For that is Progress.
I am a better man than you,
Because I work with my hands.
When I shall have conquered,
I shall not work with my hands.
But I shall still be a better man than you.
Behold me!
I am Revolt!

NOTHING TO DO AND TIME TO DO IT IN

Here lies a poor woman
Who always was tired,
For she lived in a house
Where help wasn't hired.
Her last words on earth were—
"Dear friends I am going
Where washing ain't done,
Nor sweeping, nor sewing,
And everything there
Is exact to my wishes,
For where they don't eat
There's no washing of dishes.
I'll be where loud anthems
Will always be ringing,
But having no voice,
I'll get clear of the singing.
"Don't mourn for me now—
Don't mourn for me never—
I'm going to nothing
For ever and ever!"

DOOLEY AND THE WAR

One of the first great Allied victories at the Marne was scored by a division of the army in which there were a lot of Irishmen. Then the Germans recovered the territory, and among the prisoners they took was Dooley. Thereafter Dooley whenever he saw one of the Kaiser's men would remark, "Say, Dutchy, wasn't that a devil of a licking we Irish handed you Germans at the Marne?"

Dooley at length was reported to one of the commanding officers. Of the two alternatives to which he was sentenced—taking the oath of allegiance to Germany or being shot—Dooley chose the former.

"Is it true" he asked after the formality was over "that I am now a full fledged German?" "That's what you are," was the answer. "Well," said Dooley to the officer he was addressing, "Wasn't that a devil of a licking those Irish handed us Germans at the Marne?"

"Who made you?" At length she excusingly said "Oh, please mother did tell me, but I have forgotten the gentleman's name."

The New German Empire Of Industry

A German empire of industrialists is being reared on the ruins of the Hohenzollern dynasty, according to various French and British correspondents who have been examining German conditions, regardless of the poverty-stricken warnings and menaces that darkened every objection of the German delegates at the Spa conference. The Germany of the next few years, remarks a correspondent of the London Times, "will in many respects bear a striking likeness to what the United States was under the Republican regime when Wall Street and the great interests controlled to such a large extent the policy of the Government." Labor was kept happy with a "full dinner-pail," the trusts waxed rich, and the consumer paid the bill, he writes, and though people got high wages, "their net increment at the end of the year was less than in other, and apparently less prosperous, countries." He tells us further that unless he is "very much mistaken"—

"Germany is going to develop into a highly organised plutocracy, possibly with a certain amount of Socialistic window-dressing. Bismarck's state-insurance schemes, old-age pensions, etc., were at one time the furbelows of military autocracy. To veil the inhumanity of man's greed, the plutocracy of tomorrow will doubtless seek to gild the fetters of labor by minimum-wage agreements, state control of food-prices, etc., but Germany will be governed by a few rich men who have the vision to see that their own prosperity is dependent upon the contentment and prosperity of the people they govern. . . . . .

"On one thing I am well convinced, and that is, that there is no danger of Bolshevism in Germany. Nearly twenty months have elapsed since the revolutionary movement which overthrew the old order of things. Germany has had sporadic outbreaks of extremists, and she will have them again; but disorder is utterly repugnant to the German mind, and the majority, the great majority, of Germans cling to the things that were best in the lives of their fathers.

"Germany has cast off military imperialism, but she is unable to govern herself. A few men of action, business men and financiers, are going to govern her, and she will welcome their guidance and do their bidding. In order to obtain from the Allies some relaxation in the terms imposed upon Germany, her new masters will from time to time brandish the bogy of Bolshevism, but it will be a bogy—nothing more."

The Times correspondent admits that there may be further internal disorders because the extremist minority "will take an early opportunity of trying its strength, possibly by a wide-spread strike in connection with the levying of an income tax from the previously exempt working classes." Nevertheless, Germany is resuming her old habits of discipline, order, and public opinion seems to have "crystallised along traditional lines," for—

"Both the extreme Nationalists and the extreme Socialists are without any real influence. There is everywhere a return to saner political conceptions. While ostensibly adhering to monarchical principles, the People's party itself does not seek the rehabilitation of the Hohenzollerns, as demanded by the Nationalists (although I did detect quite a good deal of sympathy for the Crown Prince, which is quite different from the feeling that existed a year ago). Although not likely to obtain control of the government this time, the People's party seems to have more executive ability and more constructive imagination than all the other parties put together. They certainly have plenty of money and brains."

A well-informed foreign correspondent of the Paris Matin confirms the reports of the new era of kings and captains of industry in Germany from first-hand sources. He tells us that in a night journey by train from Cologne to Berlin he saw in full operation under electric light enormous industrial plants at Essen, Gelsenkirchen, Dortmond, and twenty other cities, and he quotes an important manufacturer of Cologne as saying of this panorama of activity: "You see we are beginning to be reborn. We do not produce much yet. But with our own coal, iron from Sweden, and also a little from Lorraine, we are again at work. And that is the essential thing, as much and more a spiritual necessity than a material one for our people." The Matin's correspondent relates that about a year and a half ago, directly after the armistice, the foremost leaders of industry in Germany drew up a program of action based on two cardinal points, namely, harmony with the workers and political aggressiveness. Mr. Hugo Stinnes, who somewhat inaptly is called "the German Rockefeller," was the prime mover in this campaign of industry, and as leader of the interests on his side he founded, in joint co-operation with General Secretary Legien, of the German Syndicalists, the Work Union (Arbeitsgemeinshaft), in which employes and employers are represented on a basis of parity. To the central body of this organisation are joined fourteen unions of the empire, representing great branches of national production, and this informant writes that "although this enterprise is of comparatively recent date, there is no question but that it constitutes a trump-card to be reckoned with in all international negotiations of an economic character that Germany may be involved in." As a fixed policy they have determined to put all the weight of their influence and their money into politics and have employed in election contests the most demagogic methods. Two results are signalised as the fruit of their activities, according to the Matin's correspondent, the first of which appears in the helplessness of the political parties to disentangle the crisis that followed the elections, and the second is that economic questions have taken precedence in the public mind of political questions. This means, of course, that the group of men who can take advantage of the economic situation will enormously increase their political influence and control whether they are officially in government or not. We read then:

"Their present program, which is very different from that plastered on the bill-boards in the pre-election campaign, is one of reconstruction. But their conception of reconstruction embraces all Europe and embodies a foreign policy every Frenchman should know to the bottom. . . . This policy is not a policy of revenge. In the minds of these industrial potentates the war was a mistake. They want to have Germany resume her progress without disturbing the rest of the world, and to have her do it through methods that succeeded so magnificently before 1914, namely, work and technically specialised intelligence."

The Matin's correspondent gives us also a personal statement from Mr. Hugo Stinnes, whom he quotes as saying in part:

"Despite present conditions I believe that international solidarity in finance and production is realisable and necessary. Countries die as surely from too much money as from too little. Too high a rate of exchange is a burden equally heavy as too low a rate. This is the fact that will force the neutral nations and America to participate in European reconstruction. What is to be credit basis of this world organisation for the rehabilitation of all the loss and damage of war? To my mind it should not be carried by a loan but by international taxation. Coal, iron, land transportation, and marine transportation can be taxed to produce the resources which this organisation would administer and use for the benefit of all. But the foundation wall of this general arrangement would be a Franco-German solidarity based on contiguity, the war, and the enforced exchange of iron, coal, and other products."

Garrett P. Serviss's Article

Difference Between Thunderstorms And Tornadoes Explained By Eminent Scientist

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

"What reasons do meteorologists give for the small number of thunderstorms and cyclones on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards as compared with the many in the great central valleys?" asked an interested reader.

By "cyclone" you undoubtedly mean what meteorologists call a tornado. Cyclones are general storms, in the form of immense aerial eddies. Sometimes as much as a thousand miles in diameter, while tornadoes are violent local atmospheric whirls which, where they touch the ground, are seldom more than a few hundred feet across.

Tornadoes are characterised by funnel-shaped clouds, of dark and terrible aspect, spinning with fearful velocity, tearing fences and buildings to pieces, and often sucking up heavy objects, and even men and animals, to a considerable height in the air.

CAUSE OF TORNADOES

They occur most frequently along the southeastern edge of an advancing cyclone. They appear at the edge of the cyclone like the small eddies formed near the border of a large water-whirl. Their immediate cause is an unduly heated state of the air near the ground as compared with that some hundreds of feet above. Dirt-whirls in country roads on a hot day are examples of baby tornadoes, born mid conditions which do not permit them to attain more than Lilliputian dimensions.

The southern quadrant of an advancing cyclone, with its cool northwest winds coming into contact with heated currents from the south, is manifestly a favorable place for the birth of tornadoes. "The warm wind, feeling about for a point of escape through its cold cover," writes W. W. Davis, "soon makes or finds a vent where it can drain away upward, and then the entire warm mass, even a mile or more in diameter, and often more than a thousand feet in thickness, begins the rotary motion"—and so the tornado is born.

A WATERSPOUT AT SEA

At sea a tornado assumes the form of a waterspout. But waterspouts are generally far less destructive phenomena than tornadoes, not only because their paths lie mostly across uninhabited wastes, but also because the surface of the water does not become intensely heated as that of the land, and the energies called into play by differences of temperature between superposed masses of air are proportionally less intense. Although the Atlantic coast is not exempt from tornadoes, yet they are relatively rare there, because of the different atmospheric conditions resulting from the near presence of the ocean without an intercepting barrier.

On the Pacific coast also, where tornadoes are unknown, and even thunderstorms are generally very rare, the tempering effect of the sea is to be considered. The cyclones that sweep over the central and eastern parts of the country, and which, as we have seen, furnish along their southern borders the atmospheric nurseries of tornadoes, do not touch the Pacific coast at all, since they have their origin to the east of the Rocky Mountains.

With regard to thunderstorms the case is somewhat similar as far as concerns their aptness to occur in some regions more frequently than in others. I notice in the Encyclopedia Britannica the surprising statement that a tornado "is usually formed within a thunderstorm," followed by equally surprising, that "owing to their association [illegible] storms they (tornadoes) generally occur in warm weather.'

Now, tornadoes do occur in warm weather, but not on account of any such association, and the statements quoted are very misleading since they would convey the impression to an uninformed reader that tornadoes are an outgrowth, or a consequence, of thunderstorms, whereas the two phenomena are simply independent results of a similar cause.

It is true, as Professor McAdie says, that tornadoes occur "under the same general conditions as thunderstorms, along the line of conflict between warm, moist south winds and cold north winds." But there are a thousand thunderstorms for one tornado, and over the greater part of the areas where thunderstorms are frequent in hot weather, tornadoes are extremely rare, or entirely unknown. In their characteristics when fully developed the two are quite different.

As with tornadoes, only differences in the generally prevailing atmospheric conditions, which in turn depend upon latitude, elevation, topographic features and relations, etc., can be invoked to explain the greater prevalence of thunderstorms in some regions than in others. The quotation above from Professor McAdie indicates what conditions should be looked for as favoring the frequent occurrence of thunderstorms.

The application may be found in study of the fact that three regions of maximum for thunderstorms have been recognised in the United States, viz., (1) in the southeast, centering about Florida; (2) in the middle Mississippi valley, and (3) in the middle Missouri valley. Along the Great Lakes and in New England they are much less frequent. Very few occur along the Pacific, but many in parts of the Rocky Mountains.

On The Roof of the World

The breeze on the roof of the World affects the fur of the Tibetan Fox. The result is long heavy lustrous Fur. The locality here in some places more than 15,000 feet above the level of the sea, produces fox coats of long dense downy fur and over-hair of exquisite fineness and beauty, and in instances of great value. Only the prime skins are selected for you and no skin is sent out less than 45 inches in length, pelt and tail. You can have one of these Tibetan Fox skins by sending a Chinese Post Office Money order for $25 to MR. ELLY WIDLER, TA TSIENLU, SZECHWAN PROVINCE, and he will immediately mail you one of these specially selected Tibetan For Skins.

Milk-White Butterfly

BY ANGELA MORGAN

A Milk-White butterfly, with spotted wing,
Poised on a purple thistle bud—a lovely thing!—
Summoned my senses from their wandering;
Drew, in a second's time, my gaze from everywhere
To one ecstatic circle in the air—
Captured and held me, deified, enthralled,
As if the angel Gabriel had called.

Acres of softly undulating wheat
Slow feathering beneath the August heat;
Billows of meadow beauty, where the grass
Reddened to see the youths and maidens pass;
And golden rod—and golden rod!
That royal aspiration of the sod,
The final utterance of all earth tries to say
In one rich Summer day.

While over me the sky swung like a silver bell,
Whose walls were azure winds that rose and fell,
And mid-day sun was blazing on the sea
Whose waters called and ever called to me—
Yet on that single point of pure perfection could I gaze
As if it held the focus of Creation's rays.
Oh, milk-white butterfly with spotted wing,
'Tis you have told me everything!
I know, I know my dreams will all come true—
Oh, butterfly, I fix my faith on you!

Pictures Poincare In Throes Of Dream

French Writer Imagines Defeated Allies Attempting Evasions Of Treaty

BY WALTER DURANTY

Paris, July 18.—The Matin will print the following tomorrow:

"President Poincare has dreamed a dream. He dreamed that Germany won the war, imposed a crushing peace at Versailles and sent troops triumphantly through the Arch of Triumph with the Kaiser, Crown Prince, Ludendorf and Hindenburg at their head.

"France had been stripped of her northern territory, England of her colonies and fleet, and America forced to pay a terrific indemnity But as time wore on six-ten-months after the peace treaty, the Allies began to recover. England had hid submarines and airplanes. The United States was secretly rebuilding both in factories that escaped control. French nationalist patriots were arming despite the half-hearted protests of the French Government.

"Rumors of this began to reach Germany and there was agitation in the German press. Then a German Liberal newspaper proposed that a conference be held at Cannes between the beaten Allies and victorious Germany to induce the former to fulfill the treaty throughly without the idea or hope of evasion and revenge.

"What happened? The army was flung at France and the fleet at England. A cloud of Zeppelins and Gothas bombed New York. French Nationalist bands were hunted down and slaughtered. Paris was smashed into submission with minenwerfers and machine guns. The latter's murderous rattle woke the French President.

"For a moment he was dazed. Then memory returned—the Allies had won the war and were holding at Spa just the same conference as the Liberal German newspaper had proposed for Cannes. The President continues:

"'I don't for a moment desire to suggest that we should imitate the brutal and bloody methods that the Germans might have employed. But is there not a mean between brutality and weakness? After all, what have been the results of Spa? The principal problem that the conference had to settle—reparations on which depend France's resurrection—has not even been touched. It has been put off to the Genevan Kalends.'

"Disarmament of Germany has been postponed. The amount of coal fixed by the treaty, even less in amount than was apportioned by the Reparations Committee, has been reduced still further. We have agreed to advance Germany money without even knowing if she will pay us our damages. It is true we got the insertion of penal clauses in the event of non-fulfilment, but they are a long way off, and meanwhile Germany has learned how best to play the game against the Allies and, still more, how to temporise, for time is on her side. She has seen what she gains by talking; she will go on with it. The sessions will continue indefinitely.

"And yet I dream no longer—the Allies are victorious and the Germans vanquished."

LOU TELLEGEN—ROMANTIC HERO WHO PLAYS with DASH and VERVE
7 PARTS DRAMA

THE NOBLE
solution of her love problem is entirely sympathetic, and seems to break down some of the imaginary barriers which now stand between the peoples of different lands.

ALTHOUGH
the heroine is a lady of the English nobility, she believes that the hero whom she loves is a native Egyptian.
The great love she feels for the "dark" Sheik Essao is a living flame, a flame seemingly fanned by the hot desert itself.
She struggles with her racial pride, but when at length the Sheik proves himself a hero of the highest type, she throws discretion to the winds and declares her love for him.

THE BARRIER
of race has often served as the background of a poignant story.
In most cases Love has been unable to break down the taboo and the exceptional cases rarely reach public notice. In this picture the delicate problem is handled with subtlety and power.

MEN WHO ARE SUCCESSFUL IN WINNING THE LADY OF THEIR DREAMS WOULD GIVE ANYTHING TO LEARN THE ART OF THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS LOVER, LOU TELLEGEN. HE IS SUPPOSED TO BE THE IDEALLY GRACIOUS COURTIER EVERY WOMAN HOPES SOMEDAY TO MEET.
